DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

- Group 1, claims 1-5, 7, 10, 11 and 15, drawn to a terminal comprising an encryption-key management list table having at least one encryption-key management list comprising a terminal identifier of a different terminal, a unicast encryption key between the terminal and the different terminal, and a broadcast encryption key assigned to the different terminal and encrypting a payload of the broadcast frame using the broadcast encryption key.
- Group 2, claims 6, 12 and 16, drawn to terminal comprising a generated-key table configured to store a broadcast encryption key assigned to said terminal, the broadcast encryption key being different than a second broadcast encryption key assigned to a different terminal and also stored, in correspondence with the different terminal, in the terminal.
- Group 3, claims 8-9, 13, 14, 17 and 18, drawn to a terminal comprising means for encrypting a terminal identifier and a broadcast encryption key of the terminal using a unicast encryption key assigned to a transmission-destination terminal and means for transmitting the encrypted terminal identifier and broadcast encryption key of the terminal to the transmission-destination terminal.

2. The groups listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the groups lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the special technical feature of the terminal claimed in group 1 (encrypting a payload of the broadcast frame using the broadcast encryption key) is not the same special technical feature of the terminal of group 2 (the broadcast encryption key being different than a second broadcast encryption key assigned to a different terminal) and the special technical feature of the terminal of group 3 (encrypting a terminal identifier and a broadcast encryption key of the terminal using a unicast encryption key).

3. Restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper because all these inventions listed in this action are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious search and examination burden if restriction were not required because one or more of the following reasons apply:

- (a) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification;
- (b) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter;
- (c) the inventions require a different field of search (for example, searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries);

(d) the prior art applicable to one invention would not likely be applicable to another invention;

(e) the inventions are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.

If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
